Farmingville, NY – On March 2, Supervisor Ed Romaine visited Mrs. Trimboli's 5th grade class at Tecumseh Elementary School in Farmingville where he was a guest reader at their annual "Leaders are Readers Day." During his time in the class, he spoke to the children about his career in public service and held a lively question and answer session. The children were very eager to learn about his role as a leader in the community and his responsibilities while serving as Town Supervisor. He concluded his time with the students by reading aloud the book, "One Smile," by Cindy McKinley.

Sachem schools are involved in the initiative of instilling leadership in their students through the principles of the "7 Habits of Highly Effective People," written by Stephen Covey. By inviting leaders of the community to read to the students, it is their hope that students will learn more about the pillars of good character and leadership.
